XXII. Wem ein tugendsam Weib bescheret ist

He who is 'beshert'* of a virtuous and capable wife

from Israelsbrünnlein (1623)

Proverbs 31: 10-13

Johann Hermann Schein (1586–1630)

<sup>* &#</sup>x27;Beshert': 'Given' in the sense of 'fated', as a particular man is 'given' to a particular woman.

Engraving by Lilypond http://lilypond.org. Transcription and Edition by Peter Kaplan petry@aya.yale.edu, 2009.

<sup>© 2009</sup> by CPDL http://cpdl.org. May be fully distributed, duplicated, performed, and recorded.

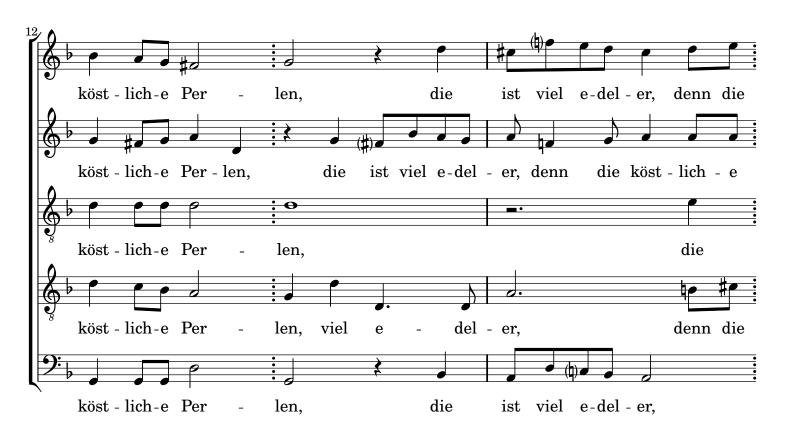

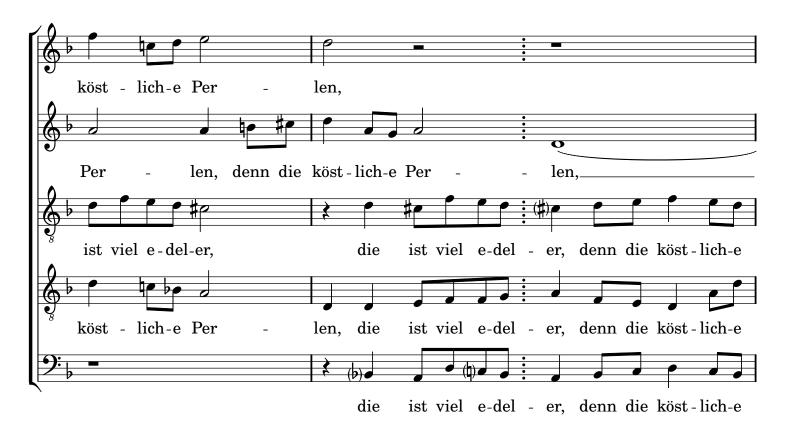

...she is more valuable than precious pearls;...

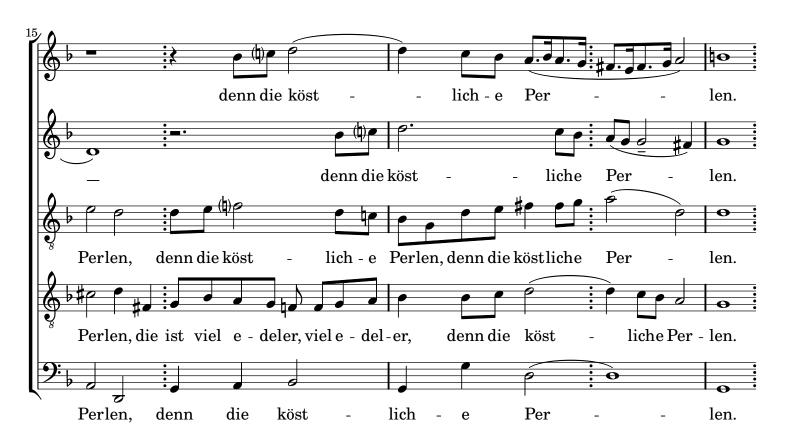

...she is more valuable than precious pearls;...

...she is more valuable than precious pearls; his heart may rely on her,...

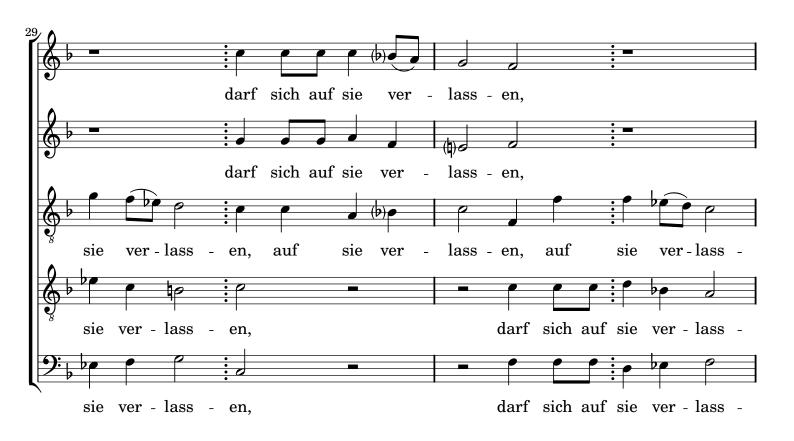

...his heart may rely on her,...

...his heart may rely on her,...

...his heart may rely on her, and will not lack for sustenance.

...and will not lack for sustenance. She brings him love, and no suffering, his whole life long.

