Sing ye un - to the Lord our God A new re-joy-cing song, a new re - joi - cing song,
Let Is - ra - el re-joyce in God, And prai-ses to him sing, and prai - ses to him sing,

Sing ye un - to the Lord our God A new re-joy-cing song, a new re - joi - cing song,
Let Is - ra - el re-joyce in God, And prai-ses to him sing, and prai - ses to him sing,

Sing ye un - to the Lord our God A new re-joy-cing song, a new re - joi - cing song,
Let Is - ra - el re-joyce in God, And prai-ses to him sing, and prai - ses to him sing,

Sing ye un - to the Lord our God A new re-joy-cing song, a new re - joi - cing song,
Let Is - ra - el re-joyce in God, And prai-ses to him sing, and prai - ses to him sing,

3. Let them sound praise with voice of lute,
Unto his holy Name,
And with the timbrel and the harp
Sing praises to the same.

4. For why? the Lord his pleasure all
Hath in his people set,
And by deliv'rance he will raise
The meek to glory great.

Notes: The original order of parts is 2nd - 1st - [Instrumental bass] in the opening symphony, and Tenor - [Alto] - Treble - [Bass] - [Instrumental bass] thereafter. The alto and tenor voice parts are given in the treble clef an octave above sounding pitch in the source. The concluding symphony is given on the voice parts in the source, with the second treble-range instrumental part (given here on the alto staff) printed on the tenor staff at the same pitch as given in this edition (i.e. this has not been transposed by an octave in transcription). The first time bar has been added editorially, to accommodate the repeat from partway through bar 15 back to partway through bar 9 which is shown in the source. The first verse of the text is underlaid in the source, with three subsequent verses printed after the music: verse 2 has here been underlaid editorially.
