Translation

The text is a selection of verses from the psalms, perhaps culled from some Elizabethan compilation of Flores Psalmorum similar to that contained in the Preces Privatae published by William Seres (London, 1564). The symmetrical arrangement of the psalms is noteworthy:

| | |
|---|---------------|
| In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust : let me never be put to confusion, deliver me in thy righteousness. | (Ps.31, v.1) |
| Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me : for I am desolate, and in misery. | (Ps.25, v.15) |
| Hearken unto my voice, O Lord, when I cry unto thee : have mercy upon me, and hear me. | (Ps.27, v.8) |
| Look upon my adversity and misery : and forgive me all my sin. | (Ps.25, v.17) |
| Teach me thy way, O Lord : and lead me in the right way, because of mine enemies. | (Ps.27, v.13) |
| O keep my soul, and deliver me : let me not be confounded, for I have put my trust in thee. | (Ps.25, v.19) |
| Into thy hands I commend my spirit : for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord, thou God of truth. | (Ps.31, v.6) |

Editorial Conventions

The original clef, staff signature, mensuration symbol and first note of each part are shown on the prefatory staves at the start of the piece.

Editorial accidentals are placed above the notes concerned and remain operative throughout the bar. Accidentals which are not given explicitly in the source, but which are required through modernisation of the staff signature are placed before the note and have a superscript dot.

Ligatures are denoted by the sign [] .

A repeat sign in the underlay has been expanded using italics. Wholly editorial underlay is placed between square brackets.

The tenor part has been reconstructed by the editor and is printed in small notation.

The Tenor Part

It is uncertain whether the tenor should sing in the section Vide humilitatem. Probably it should not. It is impossible to fit in any of the points of imitation convincingly and, with the arguable exception of the chord on the first beat of bar 102 (the delayed entry of the root of the chord is not without precedent), the harmony is complete without it. The settings by John's father, William, of the Psalm-motets Adhaesit pavimento and Memor esto verbi tui, both of which contain gimels that are harmonically complete without the tenor (though again this part is missing from both pieces), support this conclusion. Adhaesit pavimento supplied the formal plan for In te Domine while the gimel section of Memor esto is for the same forces as In te Domine.

Notes on the Readings of the Source

In the list of readings below, each reference to a bar or group of bars is separated by an oblique stroke, references to different voices in the same bar by a semicolon, and multiple references to the same voice by a comma. The order within each entry is: 1) bar number(s); 2) voice; 3) reading of the source. References to staff signatures are to the original source pitch. Other pitches are those of the edition and are given in capital letters, preceded by a number where necessary, e.g. ²E = 2nd note E in the bar.
