

Arise and sing, dispel your fears

1/2

Almond Woolf

Text: Anonymous, given in full in Cornish Carols, Part I

This edition by Edmund Gooch released into the public domain, July 2018.

A - rise and sing, dis - pel your fears, a - rise and sing, dis -
 See from the high - est realms of bliss, see from the high - est
 Lo, the bright sun of right - eous - ness, lo, the bright sun of

A - rise and sing, dis - pel your fears, a - rise and sing, dis -
 See from the high - est realms of bliss, see from the high - est
 Lo, the bright sun of right - eous - ness, lo, the bright sun of

A - rise and sing, dis - pel your fears, a - rise and sing, and sing, dis -
 See from the high - est realms of bliss, see from the high - est, high - est Lo, the bright sun of right - eous - ness, lo, the bright sun, bright sun of

A - rise and sing, dis - pel your fears, a - rise and sing, dis -
 See from the high - est realms of bliss, see from the high - est
 Lo, the bright sun of right - eous - ness, lo, the bright sun of

7

pel your fears, Ti - dings of joy sa - lute your ears, realms of bliss, An - gels des - cend to pub - lish peace;
 right - eous - ness Ap - pears the de - sert world to bless:

pel your fears, Ti - dings of joy sa - lute your ears,
 realms of bliss, An - gels des - cend to pub - lish peace;
 right - eous - ness Ap - pears the de - sert world to bless:

pel your fears, Ti - dings of joy sa - lute your ears,
 realms of bliss, An - gels des - cend to pub - lish peace;
 right - eous - ness Ap - pears the de - sert world to bless:

pel your fears, Ti - dings of joy sa - lute your ears,
 realms of bliss, An - gels des - cend to pub - lish peace;
 right - eous - ness Ap - pears the de - sert world to bless:

13

And heav'n pours forth its sa - cred light To dis - si - pate the gloom of Wrapt in the glor - ious theme, the plains Re-sound in their me - lo - dious
 May ev - 'ry soul their tri - bute bring, And worlds un - born his glo - ry

And heav'n pours forth its sa - cred light To dis - si - pate the Wrapt in the glor - ious theme, the plains Re-sound in their me -
 May ev - 'ry soul their tri - bute bring, And worlds un - born his

And heav'n pours forth its sa - cred light To Wrapt in the glor - ious theme, the plains Re - May ev - 'ry soul their tri - bute bring, And night, to dis - si - pate the gloom of night, to dis - si - pate the gloom of night.

19

 strains, re - sound in their me - lo - dious strains, re - sound in their me - lo - dious strains.
 sing, and worlds un - born his glo - ry sing, and worlds un - born his glo - ry sing.

gloom of night, to dis - si - pate the gloom of night, to dis - si - pate the gloom of night.
 -lo-dious strains, re - sound in their me - lo - dious strains, re-sound in their me - lo - dious strains.
 glo - ry sing, and worlds un-born his glo - ry sing, and worlds un - born his glo - ry sing.

To dis - si - pate the gloom of night, to dis - si - pate the gloom of night.
 Re - sound in their me - lo - dious strains, re-sound in their me - lo - dious strains.
 And worlds un-born his glo - ry sing, and worlds un - born his glo - ry sing.

dis - si - pate the gloom of night, to dis - si - pate the gloom of night.
 sound in their me - lo - dious strains, re - sound in their me - lo - dious strains.
 worlds un - born his glo - ry sing, and worlds un - born his glo - ry sing.

Notes:

This carol is given in short score in R. H. Heath's Cornish Carols, Part I, attributed to 'A. Woolf'.

In that source, the first verse of text is underlaid between the staves, with additional fragments of this verse above and below the staves to indicate the word fit for the different parts. A further two verses of text are printed after the music.

In this edition, the voice parts have been split out to open score, and all three verses of text have been underlaid in full.