All ye whom love or fortune

John Dowland (1563-1626)

1. All ye whom love or fortune hath be-ward
2. Care that consumes the heart, the heart with

1. All ye whom love or fortune hath be-
   ward
2. Care that consumes the heart, the heart
   with

1. All ye whom love or fortune hath be-
   ward
2. Care that consumes the heart, the heart
   with

1. All ye whom love or fortune hath be-
   ward
2. Care that consumes the heart, the heart
   with

1. All ye whom love or fortune hath be-
   ward
2. Care that consumes the heart, the heart
   with
S

ever more de - layed, force me to com - plain;
All ye whose

A

are e - ver more de - layed, en-force me to com - plain, But still in

T

more, e - ver more de - layed, de - layed, en-force me to com - plain, com - plain, All But

B

hopes are e - ver more de - layed, like, en-force me to com - plain,
All ye whose

20

sighs, whose sighs or sick - ness wants re - lief: vain, in vain: for none my plaints will rue.

Tears, sighs, all ye whose sighs or sick - ness wants re - lief: Lend vain, but still in vain: for none my plaints will rue. Tears, sighs, whose sighs or sick - ness wants re - lief: Lend vain, in vain: for none my plaints will rue. Tears, ears and tears, sigths and tears;

25

ears and tears to me, sighs and cries, tears, sighs and cease-less cries ears and tears; lend ears and tears, lend ears and tears to me, sighs and cries; tears, sighs and cease-less

Lend
ears and tears; lend ears and tears, lend ears and tears to me,
sighs and cries; tears, sighs and cease-less

ears and tears, sighs and cries, tears, sighs and cease-less ears and tears, lend ears and tears, lend ears and tears to me,

sighs and cries, tears, sighs and cease-less

All ye whom love and fortune - Dowland
All ye whom love and fortune - Dowland

me, most hap - less man, That sings my sorcries a - lone I spend: My woe wants com-most a - lone I spend:

me, to me, most hap - less man, That sings my sorcries, and cries a - lone I spend: My woe wants com-rows, that sings my sorrows, my sor-
rows, my sor-
rows, my sor-
rows, my sorrows like the com - fort, wants com - fort, and my Tears, sighs and like the dy - row end. Lend tears and and my sor - row end. Tears, sighs and Lend tears and sor -row end. Tears, sighs and end.