D. C. Heath and Company
(1868)

Charles Edward Whiting (1833-1923) was born in Holliston, Massachusetts. He was an instructor in music in the Boston public schools for over forty years. He authored a series of textbooks on music, "The Public School Music Course." His compositions and arrangements were mostly songs for his music textbooks. His younger brother George Elbridge Whiting (1840-1923) was also an accomplished musician and composer.

Whiting set only stanzas one and two of the popular
Nineteenth Century poem.

Rejoice, rejoice! the summer months are coming;
Rejoice, rejoice! the birds begin to sing;
When joy bursts out in songs of praise,
And hills resounding echoes raise.

Rejoice, rejoice! the budding flowers are bursting;
Rejoice, rejoice! their fragrance fills the air;
When roses bloom and daisies grow,
And glories twine, and violets blow.

Rejoice! rejoice! the summer days are passing;
Rejoice! rejoice! for sweets they now impart;
The cooling morn, the sunny day,
Which balmy evening wears away.
